

14th Weekend with history: Common Places

14th edition of the Weekend with history, organised by Porta Posnania and The Royal-Imperial Route.

Weekend with history is an annual event analysing correlation between history and its effects after. For two days we will closely look at the last centuries and think what effects it has on our daily lives. The theme of this edition is Common Places - the shared spaces attracting people of all cultures. What makes them so attractive? Is it a picturesque architecture or availability? Or maybe history of a place decides about its attractiveness? We will try to find the answers!

The program is only in Polish but anyone interested is invited to check the planned attractions. The happenings will take place in Porta Posnania Interactive Center and in a few other locations in Poznań.
