

Great Theatre (Opera-House)

The Great Theatre is a Neo-classical building designed by Max Litmann. Flanked by six massive columns, its façade is headed by a triangular jerkin topped with a sculpture of Pegasus. Today, this is one of the country's best opera houses.